

NUE FUSION 200 MICROCURRENT

Suggested Informed Consent

Nue Fusion 200 Microcurrent delivers low level frequencies (less than one millionth of an amp) that work in harmony with the body's electrical system. Microcurrent provides skin with very small amounts of electrical stimulation, which causes a flex and relax response. This is a gentle non - invasive response to improve skin appearance.

Ideal results - schedule twice a week for three weeks which equals (6) skin treatments. (12) treatments are considered maximum before scheduling maintenance.

Maintenance Treatments - Depends on individual goals. Once or twice a month is recommended to sustain cumulative results.

It is recommended to drink water following facial microcurrent treatments.
